2-bedroom Modern Cabin
 Floor Plan

Rustic Cabin—Cabins 1 – 12, & 14

The rustic cabins are log cabins with wood flooring. They were constructed by the Civilian Conservation Corps in the 1930's. Cabins 1—6 are one-room cabins that sleep four with two sets of twin-size bunk beds. In cabins 7—12 and 14 the sleeping area and dining area are separate. The sleeping area sleeps six with one set of twin-size bunk beds and one set of double-size bunk beds.

Each cabin is furnished with a table and chairs, electric stove, microwave, and refrigerator. The cabins have electric lights and outlets and are heated by a wood-burning stove. (Wood is usually provided in the spring and fall seasons for rustic cabins but is not always guaranteed). Rustic cabins have no sinks or running water. Campers use a centrally located modern washhouse with hot showers, sinks, and flush toilets.

Rustic Cabins are open from Mid-April through Mid-December except Cabin 14, which is open year round

Things to bring: Sheets, blankets, pillows, etc.; all cooking and serving utensils; all eating utensils; toaster and coffeepot; toiletries; containers to carry water; dishpan for doing dishes; an ax or hatchet to split wood for wood burning stove.; dry kindling and newspaper to start a fire.

Modern Cabin—Cabins 15 – 19 & Cabin 20

The modern cabins are like a home away from home. The floors are covered with carpeting and tile flooring. Cabins 15 to 19 sleep six. There is a living room with couch and chairs, end tables, and lamps; two bedrooms—one with a double-size bed, the other with two sets of twin-size bunks— and a kitchen area with an electric stove, refrigerator, a sink with hot/cold running water, and microwave. The bathroom has a shower, flush toilet and a sink. The cabins are equipped with electric lights, outlets and electric heat. Outside each cabin is a picnic table and a fire ring with a grill attachment.

Cabin #20 was at one time the Black Moshannon Ski Lodge and is our most popular cabin. The cabin sleeps 8, has two levels, and is equipped with wheelchair lift on the connecting staircase. The upper level has a bathroom (a flush toilet, a sink with hot/cold running water, and a shower) and three bedrooms—one has a double-size bed, one has a set of twin-size bunk beds, and one has two sets of twin-size bunk beds.

The bottom level is the living quarters. The living room has couches and chairs, end tables, lamps and a glass front wood burning stove (wood is not provided). The full sized kitchen is equipped with an electric stove, refrigerator, microwave, table and chairs.

Modern Cabins are open year-round.

Things to bring: Sheets, blankets, pillows, etc; all cooking utensils; all eating utensils; Toaster and coffeepot; toiletries; wood, kindling and newspaper to use in the outside fire ring or the wood burning stove in cabin 20.

Deluxe Cottages—Cranberry 22 & Blueberry 21

The deluxe camping cottages are two-room cottages built log cabin style with wood floors. The kitchen area of each cottage is furnished with a table and chairs, electric stove top, microwave, and refrigerator. The sleeping area sleeps 5 and has one double bunk with a twin-size bunk on top and a set of twin-size bunks. The deluxe cottages have electric heat, lights, ceiling fans, and outlets. They do not have sinks or running water. Campers use a centrally located modern wash house with hot/cold running water, sinks, showers, and flush toilets. There is also a dishwashing station and laundry facilities.

Deluxe cottages are open from mid-April through mid-December.

Things to bring: Sheets, blankets or sleeping bags, pillows, etc; all cooking utensils coffee pot, toaster, serving utensils; all eating utensils; toiletries; container to carry water; dishpan(s) for doing dishes; wood, kindling, and newspaper or fire starter to use the outside fire ring.
