

Hickory Run State Park

General Trexler's Geocache

Harry C. Trexler's name can be found all over the Lehigh Valley – on schools, libraries and parks.

Trexler was a successful industrialist from Allentown who was and still is well known for his philanthropy. Perhaps his greatest gift of all was that of Hickory Run State Park. Thanks to his foresight, this land has been set aside for the people of the Commonwealth to enjoy.

While finding this cache, you will see places that had significance to Trexler, and follow in his footsteps.

Cache Instructions

This is a quick and easy puzzle cache that requires just a little bit of basic math. Please bring a pen and paper to write a few numbers down. At the location of the listed coordinates, which is a parking lot, find the bulletin board featuring information on the cache and follow the directions from there!

N 41° 01.390 W 75° 42.659

This geocache is an official geocache at www.geocaching.com (GC2JEJ5)

Type: mystery
Difficulty: ★★

Size: small
Terrain: ★★★